INVITED SESSION SUMMARY

Title of Session:

The Impact of Smart Education and Smart Universities on Students with Disabilities

Name of Chair:

Dr. Jeffrey P. Bakken, Bradley University

Details of Session:

This session will focus on research aimed to improve the functioning of students with disabilities in smart classrooms and smart universities. All papers that address smart education and/or smart universities and how they can impact and improve the functioning/access for students with disabilities will be considered. The aim of this session is for researchers around the world to discuss and share with each other ways they have improved learning and access to the curriculum for students with disabilities. By doing so, we can hopefully have an impact on how higher education can impact this population.
